Ms. [REDACTED] said that she did not want her children involved in the investigation.

² The audio-recording of Ms. [REDACTED]'s call to 911 was no longer available by the time IPRA was notified of the 26 December 2014 incident. (Att. 25).

In her Affidavit in Support of Emergency Verified Petition for Exclusive Possession of the Marital Home, and related court documents, Ms. [REDACTED] reported: "In December 2014, Wayne cornered [REDACTED] in the marital residence's kitchen. After she called the police, Wayne grabbed a knife out of the butcher's block and declared, 'I'm going to cut myself and you're going to jail.'³ Before the cops arrived, Wayne put the knife back in its place. A couple of days later, [REDACTED] asked Wayne to discuss the incident and he admitted that he was so drunk that day that he did not remember it." (Att. 28)

In a statement to IPRA dated 10 March 2016, the accused Sergeant Ronald Pellonari said that he has known Lt. Wayne Wiberg since becoming a cadet in 1994, but denied that they have a friendship. Sgt. Pellonari confirmed that on 26 December 2014, he responded to a domestic disturbance, and was aware it was the residence of Lt. Wiberg and that Ms. [REDACTED] alleged that Officer Wiberg was intoxicated and had made threats to her. Sgt. Pellonari called his supervisor, Lieutenant English and told him, "[T]his is uh involving the lieutenant [Wiberg]. [Y]ou're prob'ly gonna have to come out. Um I'm on my way to see, I'll let you know."⁴ Sgt. Pellonari said that he arrived first; Officers Lybrook and Parker also responded to the scene and he instructed them to stay outside.

Sgt. Pellonari spoke to Ms. [REDACTED] who informed him that Lt. Wiberg had been drinking and arguing with her. Ms. [REDACTED] said that Lt. Wiberg grabbed a knife and threatened to cut himself and blame it on her. Sgt. Pellonari said that Lt. Wiberg denied grabbing a knife and threatening to cut himself, but confirmed they had been arguing. Sgt. Pellonari was informed that Ms. [REDACTED] was involved in an extramarital affair and that she and her estranged husband, Lt. Wiberg were arguing about the affair and about his infidelities. Sgt. Pellonari asked Ms. [REDACTED] "Do you want this documented? What do you want done here today?"⁵ Sgt. Pellonari said that Ms. [REDACTED] responded, "I just want him to leave. The children are here, I want, I don't wanna argue anymore"⁶

Sgt. Pellonari asked Lt. Wiberg if he had been drinking and he replied, "I had a couple of drinks, yes."⁸ Sgt. Pellonari described Ms. [REDACTED] and Lt. Wiberg as "very calm and one of the easiest domestics I've ever been on."⁹ Sgt. Pellonari was asked to describe Ms. [REDACTED] demeanor and said, "She was calm but crying' a lil bit. But she wasn't you know actively upset. She was like um basically slightly kinda worked up I guess. You could tell she had been crying. I don't know if she was actually crying when I talked to her, but --."¹⁰ Sgt. Pellonari said Lt. Wiberg agreed to leave his residence; Sgt. Pellonari waited until Lt. Wiberg left. Sgt. Pellonari said that he re-contacted Lt. English and told him, "Don't bother comin', it's over,"¹¹

Sgt. Pellonari acknowledged that he was aware that the PCAD report described Lt. Wiberg as being intoxicated and threatening. Sgt. Pellonari was told by Ms. [REDACTED] said that Lt.

Wiberg had been drinking, but made no allegation that he was intoxicated. Sgt. Pellonari said that he did not observe Lt. Wiberg to be impaired or intoxicated as a result of the use of alcohol. Sgt. Pellonari said that Lt. Wiberg had no odor of alcohol and observed his eyes were not bloodshot. Sgt. Pellonari said that the information provided in PCAD reports are not always reliable. Sgt. Pellonari said that he had a sample and was asked to explain and stated:

"It came out about three weeks ago. This is from, this is not from a drunk on a phone, this is from Chicago Fire Department calling Chicago Police Department dispatch. Their dispatch calling our dispatch. These are the PCAD's we deal with all the time and I would say 50% of the time you probably have mistakes. And 50% of the time a percent of the time the jobs are totally different. So I'm gonna show you something that came out, this call came out February 1st or it came out at 00 something. I'll read it to you, if you wanna see it... This ambulance 86 needs CPD for irate patient. That's the, that's CP, that's allegedly CFD calling CPD dispatcher to dispatchers. It's a DOA. There's no irate patient. So I basically rush to this job thinking they're arguin' or fighting with the, the C, CFD. 61 was already there. I pull up there in front I said where's the patient? He goes he's dead. I just need a paper car. So that's what we deal with with the PCAD. So I am not gonna fully judge something on a PCAD because sometimes things are not taken down correctly... Okay this is something I actually consider investigatin' but I can't draw a conclusion as far as the PCAD."¹⁴

Sgt. Pellonari did not document his preliminary investigation or his conversations with Lt. Wiberg and Ms. [REDACTED] in any police reports. Sgt. Pellonari denied failing to properly document the incident and ensure that Lt. Wiberg was administered a breathalyzer. Sgt. Pellonari was asked to explain and stated:

"First off um she said she did not want it documented. Secondly, they're fighting about infidelity. They're fighting about cheating. Neither one denied that either one is cheating. So obviously it implies sayin' foul stuff to each other the whole day. At the time I took it as a stupid statement. There was no act of furtherance. He did not cut himself. He did not call the police. Um so I took it as a stupid statement during an argument and he denied it. He denied it ever happened. So you got him deny it, there's no act of furtherance. He was not bleeding, he was not cut. He did not call the police. Had he done all that, yes it would be documented. If I tell you I'm gonna go steal candy from Walgreen's is that misconduct, is that a crime? It's when I do it that, it becomes an issue, when it becomes a crime,"¹⁵

Sgt. Pellonari denied violating any order and said that Ms. [REDACTED] did not make any allegations of criminal misconduct against Lt. Wiberg and therefore no further action was required. Sgt. Pellonari was shown a copy of Special Order 04-04, specifically Item III-B-4: "Complaint and disciplinary procedures" if a Department member is involved in a domestic incident and a crime, or misconduct by the Department member is alleged."²⁰ Therefore, Sgt. Pellonari denied violating this order and Special Order 08-01-02 because he believed there was "No allegation of misconduct or criminal behavior."²¹

Sgt. Pellonari was shown a copy of Special Order 08-01-02²² which describes allegations of impairment, not involving the operation of a vehicle and states: "Alcohol intoxication means that a person's mental or physical functioning is substantially impaired as a result of the use of

CONCLUSIONAccused Lt. Wayne Wiberg: See Mediation Agreement

It is recommended that Allegation #1 that on 26 December 2014, at about 2358 hours, at 3461 N. Panama Avenue, Sgt. Ronald Pellonari responded to a domestic altercation involving Lt. Wiberg, who was reportedly intoxicated, and failed to properly document the incident, in violation of Rules 3, 6, S0-04-04, and S0-08-01-02, be SUSTAINED.

There is no dispute that Sgt. Pellonari failed to obtain a CR number for this incident. Sgt. Pellonari admitted he did not obtain a CR number because he found no evidence of misconduct and determined that Lt. Wiberg was not intoxicated. Sgt. Pellonari acknowledged that he was aware that he was responding to a domestic call at the residence of Lt. Wiberg. He was also aware that the event query reported that Lt. Wiberg was intoxicated and threatening Ms. [REDACTED]. Sgt. Pellonari reported that Ms. [REDACTED] informed him that Lt. Wiberg had been drinking and arguing with her. Regardless of Sgt. Pellonari's opinion that Lt. Wiberg was not intoxicated, he was nonetheless required to obtain a CR number for any allegation of police misconduct, even if he mistrusts PCAD information. His failure to obtain a CR number was therefore in violation of 08-01-02 (II)(F)(2)(a) and (c), and S0-04-04(III)(B)(4) also CPD Rules 3 and 6.

Sgt. Pellonari also violated Special Order 08-01-02(II)(F)(2), which required him to complete an Alcohol/Drug Influence Report for Lt. Wiberg, including ordering Lt. Wiberg to complete "Field Sobriety Tests," and submit to a Breath Test upon receiving allegations that Lt. Wiberg was impaired by Alcohol Intoxication. Sgt. Pellonari admitted that he did not document his investigation on any police reports, or ensure that Lt. Wiberg submit to a breathalyzer. Additionally, although he initially alerted Lt. English that he was responding to Lt. Wiberg's home, in his follow-up telephone call he told Lt. English that the job was completed and advised him not to come to the scene.

Sgt. Pellonari's failure to appropriately document this incident resulted in a lack of conclusive evidence regarding Lt. Wiberg's state of sobriety/intoxication. It further caused the Independent Police Review Authority to remain unaware of these allegations of misconduct for approximately six months; which led to the destruction and decay of evidence, and therefore limited the Independent Police Review Authority's ability to conduct a thorough, timely investigation. Ms. [REDACTED] call to 911 was overwritten during this time period and the memories of the involved parties were unnecessarily diminished. Sgt. Pellonari's failure to document the incident as required by CPD policies is particularly disturbing given his indication that Lt. English automatically understood the situation simply by telling him that the matter was, "involving the lieutenant," without the need to provide further details. It can be inferred from this statement that the supervisors in their district were well-aware that Lt. Wiberg was involved in domestic disturbances, even though no CR was generated until June 2015.
